Praised by the San Francisco Classical Voice for her “wizardry with voices” and named by the Honolulu Star Bulletin as “… a popular and charismatic leader,” Karen Kennedy currently holds the position of Director of Choirs at Towson University. Before joining the faculty at Towson, she held the positions of Director of Choral Activities at the University of Hawaii at Manoa, Artistic Director for the Hawaii International Choral Festival, and Director of the Honolulu Symphony Chorus. While with the Honolulu Symphony, Dr. Kennedy regularly conducted the orchestra and chorus, and most recently in performances of Orff’s Carmina Burana, Rutter’s Requiem, Fauré’s Requiem, Mozart’s Great Mass in C Minor, Mozart’s Requiem, and Rutter’s Gloria.

In addition to regular podium performances Dr. Kennedy enjoys the opportunity to present workshops on choral repertoire, conducting, choral pedagogy and vocal pedagogy. Her workshops have been a part of recent ACDA and MENC state conventions, most recently in Virginia, Maryland, Oregon and Hawaii. She has also served as a conducting clinician for participants in the nationally renowned program “Creating Artistry” with director Henry Leck.

Dr. Kennedy has received numerous awards for teaching, including the University of Hawaii’s Chancellor’s Citation for Meritorious Teaching, Arizona State University’s Manzanita “Top Prof” Award, Butler University’s Faculty Distinction Award, and is a two-time recipient of the Lawrence Townson Schools Superintendent’s Award.

James Stegall is Professor of Music and Director of Choral Activities at Western Illinois University. The Illinois Music Educators Association recently honored Dr. Stegall with the “Mary Hoffman Award of Excel-ence.” Dr. Stegall has been a featured conductor at the North American Choral Conference for fourteen years. He is also the recipient of the 2010 Colorado All State Mixed Choir. The 2008-2009 season marked Gregory Gentry ’s debut conducting the Phoenix Symphony with Stravinsky’s Symphony of Psalms. The February 2008 world premiere of Mark Geary’s Enemy Slayer: A Navajo Oratorio—with English and Navajo text by Laura Tohe—deemed Gentry’s innovative production with the Colorado Symphony Chorus (now available on the Navus Classical label). In July 2008 the Phoenix Symphony Chorus, under Gentry’s direction, enjoyed their farewell performance of Enemy Slayer at the Colorado Music Festival in Boulder’s historic Chanaqua Auditorium.

Gentry is in his fourth season as Chorusmaster of the 150-member Phoenix Symphony Chorus. His ensembles have been praised as “exceptions to the norm” by Arturo Toscanini, “the most lyrical of all ethnic choirs” by George London, and “one of the finest chamber choirs in the world” by Robert Shaw. His own technique has been primarily guided by his studies with Eph Ehly, as well as work with Brian Priestman, Dale Warland, and George London. He earned his Bachelor of Music Education from the Lamont School of Music at the University of Denver, and the degrees of Master of Music and Doctor of Musical Arts in Choral Conducting from the Conservatory of Music at the University of Missouri-Kansas City. From 2004 to 2006 he was in-service music education coordinator. Gentry has been recognized by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Colorado , and the Southwestern Division Conference of the American Choral Directors Association. He is the newly-appointed Director of Performing Arts at the Colorado Academy, where he administers the doctoral program in choral conducting. He is an active member of the American Choral Directors Association, Chorus America , National Association for Music Education, College Music Society, and the National Collegiate Choral Organization. He is the President-Elect for Arizona Chapter of the American Choral Directors Association, as well as the founding director of Southwest Liederfest.
